

NUTRITION & FOODSERVICE PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

Enroll in Tulsa Tech's Dietary Manager program and train to become a qualified professional managing dietary operations while studying food service management, human resource management, nutrition, medical nutrition therapy and food safety.

- » Approved by the Association of Nutrition and Foodservice Professionals (ANFP)
- » Successfully complete this program and be eligible for membership with ANFP and sit for the national credentialing exam
- » As part of the ANFP training program requirements, all 150 field experience hours must be approved and verified by Tulsa Tech's Program Director to ensure compliance
- » Purchase your textbooks online from the ANFP prior to class start date. Book purchases are additional and not included in tuition and fees

PART-TIME CERTIFICATION MAP

